14th International Tang Soo Do Federation Tournament Procedure and Scoring

There are five judges per Ring. The Head Judge (Referee) is seated in the center and controls the ring including the timely start of the ring and the Display of Points. The score Keeper will call the name of the first competitor and the one on deck. The contestant comes to the edge of the ring, bow, and announce the name of their form and ask permission to begin. Upon completion of the form, the head judge will call for score at which time the judges will display their score to be awarded. The scorekeeper will announce each score as they write it down so any mistakes can be caught and corrected immediately. The scorekeeper will write down all five scores however the highest and lowest will be discarded. The three remaining scores will be added together. The first, second and third places will be chosen based on these totals. Proper recording keeping is imperative for accuracy and fairness. If a tie occurs, the low and high scores will added back in and the winners will be determined. If a tie remains, the contestant must compete with an additional form to decide the winner.
